This letter is to signify Genesee County's support as well as to demonstrate consistency with Genesee County's Materials Management Plan (MMP) for the Solid Waste Processing and Transfer Facility in the City of Flint by Happy Can.

The Solid Waste Processing and Transfer Facility provides Genesee County with a much-needed local solution for recycling, reducing landfill waste, and promoting circular economy. By processing materials more efficiently, the facility will help to decrease environmental pollution, conserve natural resources, and support Genesee County's priority of healthy, livable, and safe communities through environmental stewardship.

Beyond the environmental benefits, this project will create valuable jobs for Genesee County residents, offering employment opportunities in the waste management industry. The economic impact of this facility will be significant, attracting further investment into the region while fostering a culture of sustainability and environmental responsibility.

Happy Can has a proven track record in providing waste management and recycling services to Genesee County municipalities, and their investment in this facility underscores their commitment to both a circular economy and community development. The establishment of this facility will further support Genesee County's position as a leader in sustainable waste solutions and encourage greater participation in recycling programs across the county.

Included with this letter of support is a description of the proposed facility including site acreage, facility size, services provided by the facility, and other relevant information.

Thank you for your commitment to enhancing materials management efforts in Genesee County.

Sincerely,

Dale K. Weighill, Chairperson
Genesee County Board of Commissioners
